Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Albal (U.S. patent 5,826,034)

Regarding claims 1 and 10 Albal discloses: A method for the transmission of image data from a sender to a recipient (note column 9 lines 29-34) comprising the steps of: inserting (note Fig.4 item 102 the payload) at the location of the sender into a data transmission (note column 9 lines 38-39) including an image format portion data identifying the address of the intended recipient of the image-format portion of the transmission (note Fig.4 item 1 where the address or the recipient is added to the payload 102 which is part of the message, column 9 lines 38-40) and message tracking data (note column 9 lines 67 and column 10 lines 1-2, also note column 2 lines 28-32 where the tracking system is tracking the delivery of the payload to the recipient) transmitting the data transmission over a transmission system from the sender's location to an intermediate point of presence facility (note column 9 lines 41-47 where the fax or email is sent to the point of presence or POP) and receiving the data transmission by the point of presence facility and re-transmitting the data comprising the image portion to the identified address of the recipient (note column 9 lines 46-51 where the mail is send from the point of presence to the recipient).

Regarding claim 2 and 14 Albal discloses: The method of claim1 wherein the message tracking data inserted comprises at least one of accounting, audit and documentation data (note column 9 lines 38-67 and column 10 lines 1-14 where the payload containing the information of the recipient a is inserted to the fax or email and tracked).

Regarding claim 3 Albal discloses: the method of claim 2 further including the step of processing the message tracking data by the point of presence facility (note column 9 lines 38-49).

Regarding claim 4 Albal discloses: The method of claim 3 including the further step of stripping the message tracking data from the data transmission at the point of presence facility before retransmission (note column 9 lines 44-50).

Regarding claim 5 Albal discloses: The method of claim 1 further including the steps of: inserting at the location of the sender into the data transmission data identifying an address of the sender; and sending a confirmation message to the sender's address by the point of presence facility after re-transmitting the data comprising the image portion to the recipient's identified address (note column 9 lines 38-50 where the fax or email sent from the sender is transmitted to the point of presence and thereon to the recipient).

Art Unit: 2626

Regarding claim 6 and 7 Albal discloses: the method of claim 1, wherein the address of the recipient is an email address and the step of retransmitting the data includes forwarding the data in the form of an email attachment to the recipient email address (note column 4 lines 25-63).

Regarding claim 8 Albal discloses: The method of claim 6, wherein the address of the sender is an e-mail address and the step of sending a confirmation message includes forwarding an e-mail message to the sender's e-mail address (note column 4 lines 59-63).

Regarding claim 9 Albal discloses: The method of claim 1 further including the steps of generating a confirmation message by the point of presence Facility after re-transmitting the data comprising the image Portion to the recipient's identified address and allowing the sender access to the confirmation message (note column 9 lines 46-50).

Regarding claim 11 Albal discloses: The method of claim 10 wherein the identified address of the recipient is a telephone number associated with a facsimile reception apparatus and said re-transmission includes a portion over a telephone line linked to the facsimile reception apparatus (note Fig.4 item 202 the payload where the facsimile number is attached)

Regarding claim 12 Albal discloses: The method of claim 10 wherein the transmission from the sender to the point of presence Facility is in the form of an e-mail transmission (note column 9 lines 28-43).

Art Unit: 2626

Regarding claim 13 Albal discloses: The method of claim1 wherein the step of transmitting the data transmission over a telephone system from the sender's location to an intermediate point of presence facility include converting the image data to facsimile format and transmitting the image data in the facsimile format (note column 9 lines 38-57).
